STAX Engineering provides mobile emissions capture and control technology for ports, shipping terminals, and fleet operators. Their patented exhaust capture system attaches to a berth vessels without any modifications, even in the most congested ports. Once the exhaust is captured, it is filtered, removing 99% of particulate matter (PM) and 95% of oxides of nitrogen (NOx). Importantly, STAX's technology does not produce hazardous waste when processing vessel emissions. This system enables all vessels, including tankers, to comply with the highest air quality standards while operating safely.
