

Pearls of Power is an annual two-day conference at the California Maritime Academy dedicated to advancing the success of women in maritime, transportation, and related industries, including business, engineering, and policy. The 2015 conference will be held on Friday, February 27, and Saturday, February 28.

The conference seeks to support women throughout their careers

