

- The student becomes subject to administrative academic probation for the same or similar reason for which they have been placed on administrative academic probation previously, although not currently in such status.
- An appropriate campus administrator deems a student has demonstrated behavior so contrary to the standards of the profession for which the student is preparing as to render them unfit for the profession. In such cases, disqualification will occur immediately upon notice to the student, which shall include an explanation of the basis for the action, and the campus may require the student to discontinue enrollment as of the date of the notification.

Disqualification of Students not on Probation

A student who has failed the same course three times at Cal Maritime will be subject to administrative academic disqualification regardless of GPA or placement on academic probation.

A student whose GPA is deemed mathematically impossible by the Registrar to meet degree requirements will be subject to academic disqualification.

Disqualified Students

A student who has been academically or administratively disqualified is no longer eligible to enroll in classes at Cal Maritime as a matriculated student.

A student who has been disqualified will be notified by email and by letter sent to their official mailing address on record.

If after disqualification a student feels there are extenuating circumstances that contributed to their academic performance, an appeal explaining these circumstances may be made in writing to the Academic Appeals Committee within ten business days of the least one semester or two quarters per academic year. Cal Maritime courses taken through Open University or extension do NOT count toward continuous attendance.

Other Academic Considerations

A student who has been disqualified will not be allowed to participate in a training cruise, Commercial Cruise, Internship, International Experience, Athletics, or any other summer program.
